Employers' Association Ratifies Agreement for Lecturers

A spokesperson for the Colleges Scotland Employers' Association, said:

"I am delighted to confirm that the Employers' Association has ratified the agreement for lecturing staff on conditions of service. We are hoping that the EIS membership do the same which will mean we have reached agreement on the outstanding core terms and conditions of service for lecturers. This will enable us to take forward work around professional standards, including registration of all lecturing staff by April 2019 and delivering a workforce that can meet the needs of students and the economy."
