Comment on SFC's New Chief Executive

Commenting on the appointment of Karen Watt as the new Chief Executive at the Scottish Funding Council (SFC), Shona Struthers, Chief Executive of Colleges Scotland, said:

“We are very pleased that the SFC has appointed Karen Watt as its new Chief Executive. Karen’s experience speaks for itself and her track record of delivering across a range of services including innovation and business is impressive and will undoubtedly be a great asset. We look forward to working closely with Karen to ensure that the college sector continues to deliver benefits for its learners, communities and the economy.

“The announcement also provides a timely opportunity to thank John Kemp, who has been SFC’s Interim Chief Executive over the last couple of years for his hard work and dedication to the role, and to the college sector. His input and support have been invaluable during this time.”
