Colleges Scotland's Response to the Commission for Widening Access Interim Report

Shona Struthers, Chief Executive, Colleges Scotland said:

“Colleges Scotland welcomes the publication of the interim report of the Commission on Widening Access. The report highlights the enhanced role that colleges now play in delivering higher education and providing many students from more deprived backgrounds a clear route into post-16 education. In light of the ability of colleges to reach out and attract students from more deprived backgrounds, the Commission recognises that articulation pathways between colleges and universities are vitally important.”
