Colleges Scotland Welcomes New State-of the-art College Facilities

Shona Struthers, Chief Executive of Colleges Scotland said:

“This investment ensures that colleges have the facilities to deliver the highest quality learning opportunities for students seeking to become part of the skilled workforce for the future. Both new facilities will provide cutting edge learning environments for college students, benefitting employers and the whole economy. The new dental suite at New College Lanarkshire in Coatbridge is a high calibre dental training institution and the new teaching block in East Kilbride will be a fantastic resource for the students at South Lanarkshire College.”
