Colleges Scotland's Comment on College Buildings

Shona Struthers, Chief Executive, Colleges Scotland said:

“It is important for colleges to seek to deliver the best resources for students. That includes providing the best possible facilities in the form of fit-for purpose and, crucially, safe buildings. Over recent years a number of colleges have invested in their estates and buildings. Given the recent concerns about buildings constructed under PPP, colleges across Scotland are reviewing their estates and buildings to confirm they are safe.”
