Colleges Scotland's Comment on the First Minister's Policy Priorities

Shona Struthers, Chief Executive, Colleges Scotland, said:

"The First Minister's commitments to enhancing and extending opportunities for young people and delivering economic growth and productivity are very welcome and colleges have a significant role to play in delivering these policies.

"Fair access to education, regardless of background and circumstances, is at the heart of what colleges stand for. We look forward to working with the Scottish Government and the Fair Access Commissioner when they are appointed in the summer on this issue to ensure that all people can access the opportunities that colleges provide."
