Colleges Scotland's Comment on European Funding

Shona Struthers, Chief Executive, Colleges Scotland said:

“Colleges in Scotland receive European funding which helps to deliver high quality courses that benefit students, society and the economy.

“Whilst the detail of the full impact of the vote to leave the EU will take time to become clear, it is evident that the college sector benefits from European funding.

“It is important that the potential financial impacts to the college sector are monitored and Colleges Scotland is working closely with the Scottish Government and Scottish Funding Council to ensure that any impact on income for the sector can be addressed.

“We will do what we can to ensure that colleges enable staff, students and projects to continue to flourish and excel in this new environment”.
